

PART II PLAN ELEMENTS

This part consist of four chapters corresponding to the elements of the Denton Comprehensive Development Plan; Land Use, Transportation, Community Facilities and Housing. Each element should be viewed as an integral component of the overall physical development of the community and the surrounding area; each making a contribution to the quality of life of area residents.

Each chapter (or element) consists of a section describing existing conditions; a second section, discussing key planning issues to be resolved; and a third section, presenting the plan recommendations.
